

MSS. Collection #16

Civil War Collection, ca. 1837-1914. 3 boxes (145 folders).

NOTE: The numbers cited in parentheses, e.g. 1:5, refer the researcher to the Series#:Folder# in which that name/topic will be found.

INTRODUCTION

This is an artificial collection, composed of various Civil War related accessions which were combined into one grouping during the early 1980s. There is an extensive index at the end of this inventory, which the researcher should consult for access to all the names and subjects mentioned in this collection. The researcher will find all types of material represented in this collection, with some documents/series relating to individual items or events, and other series composed of small manuscript collections in their own right. The holdings are mostly southern, private, war-related papers in the form of service records, correspondence, memoirs, diaries, and personal records relating to individuals both locally known, as well as more renowned (e.g. JEB Stuart 31:1). Included in the group are miscellaneous records primarily relating to the Union and Confederate military. These records, while limited in scope, vary in form, and include regimental records, official correspondence, financial documents, broadsides and other printed matter.

Although almost all the documents relate to events contemporary with the Civil War, some material was written after the fact (there are reminiscences, and printed material, for example). Also, some series contain material in addition to Civil War topics; the material being kept together in the same series because it relates to the individual or family in question (e.g. see Series 10:1-7, Pilson Family Correspondence, 1837-1914).

Note: This collection does not represent all the Civil War materials (printed, manuscript, photographic, etc.) held by the Museum. There are materials in other manuscript collections which have been kept with those collections and not incorporated into this artificial grouping. There are also materials of similar types that were accessioned together -- e.g. photographs, Prints & Drawings, printed items, etc. -- that are filed with like types of material in Archives.

Provenance: For the most part the provenance of this material is unknown, the material having been accumulated since the Museum's inception, thus the rationale for grouping this into a single collection to facilitate easier access.

Processing: This collection was originally processed by Howard Hendricks in the 1980s. The collection was re-folded in 1995, and this new inventory was finished (along with an index) by J. Stephen Catlett in April 1996.

SCOPE & CONTENT NOTE

This collection does include significant groupings of family papers, especially related to the Brown (3), Finley (5), and Pilson (10) families. Combined, these collections follow a family from North Wilkesboro for the period 1838 to 1914. An important part of this is the correspondence of James B.

Gordon, who rose from Private to Brigadier General in the service of the Confederacy.

Another collection is that of George W. Lewis (7:1-5) of the 28th Mississippi Cavalry, which includes: correspondence, daybook, military service papers, and postwar material.

There are Confederate financial documents in the collection, containing stock certificates, bonds (one signed by Zebulon Vance and Jonathan Worth, 4:1).

Many items reveal information on military regiments (see Index, under "Civil War--Confederate--Regiments", and "Federal--Regiments"). The papers of Peter C. Humble (6:1-3), contain financial, legal and military service records reflecting his service with the 13th N.C. Infantry.

A large part of this collection consists of small groupings of items, many related to the wartime service or experiences of local persons. There are some items relating to prominent persons, for example: Varina Davis's letter of thanks to Dr. M. L. Woods (16:1); a copy of Joseph Johnson's general orders no. 3, prohibiting fraternization with the enemy (25:1); a facsimile of Robert E. Lee's Farewell Address (28:1); Gen. Gustavus W. Smith's (33:1) 1863 book of letters; and personal correspondence of Gen. J.E.B. Stuart with Gen. James B. Gordon in 1864 (31:1).

Various examples of printed matter are included, such as a pamphlet from the Judge Advocate General's office relating to the Order of the American Knights (34:1); a dispatch from the Southern Express Co. (32:1); and a broadside collection containing examples of various notices of local and national interest (2:1-19).

There are "Miscellaneous" series (8; 9; 62; 63) which include all types of items (correspondence, discharges, paroles, safeguards, exemptions, oaths of allegiance); e.g., one pardon is signed by William H. Seward (8:3).

This collection contains many gaps and weaknesses, with no complete record of the events in question, but it does provide a good cross section of Civil War items and related items.
