Houston Family Papers, 1837-1950. 2 boxes (133 folders), ca. 500 items.

NOTE: The numbers cited in parentheses, e.g. 1:5, refer the researcher to the Series#:Folder# in which that name/topic will be found.

INTRODUCTION

The bulk of this collection dates from around the turn of the century and pertains to the business and personal dealings of Mrs. Bettie Houston, widow of William M. Houston. Largely, the material focuses on Mrs. Houston, the Houston & Bros. store, and her four surviving children. Researchers with an interest in turn of the century Women's history will find many of the materials interesting, as most pertain to Mrs. Houston's business and personal/family dealings.

Arrangement: The Houston Family Papers are arranged into eight (8) series and, within series, materials are arranged alphabetically. The eight series are: Account Books, 1837-1902; Athletic, 1902-1904; Bills/Receipts, 1867-1909; Correspondence, 1878-1950; Legal, 1845-1891; Literary, 1896-1901; Photography, n.d.; and Printed Material, 1872-1940s.

Provenance: This collection was donated to the museum in several pieces over a ten-year period from 1967 to 1977. Much of it came in 1967 and was donated in the name of William Houston, deceased. The documents were accompanied by books, photographs, magazines, and objects for the museum. All of the documents seem to have been generated or originally owned by the Houston's before coming to the museum. Donors were generally Houston family members, though Museum director Mr. William Moore did donate some of the material as well. The family Bible came from the Greensboro Public Library, having originally been donated to the Library by Elizabeth Houston.

Processing: This collection was organized and the finding aid prepared by Robert M. Browning, in January and February 1996.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

The Houston Family Papers consist of materials pertaining to the descendents of Levi Houston, one of the first owners of Greensboro city lots. Houston bought two downtown lots in 1808, including one along what is now S. Elm St. (Jas. W. Albright, Greensboro, 1808-1904: Facts, Figures, Traditions, and Reminiscences, Greensboro: Jos. J. Stone & Co., 1904: p. 6). Materials in the collection pertain to Levi's son, John B. Houston, and the family of William Montgomery Houston (1852-1891). William M. Houston may have been a son or nephew of John B. Houston.

William M. Houston was co-owner of Houston & Bros. Grocers located at 215 S. Elm St. He married M. Margaret E. "Bettie" Kerr (1857-1934) in 1877 and had six children, two of which did not live past infancy. The collection has many references to the remaining four children: William Shelton Houston (b. 1879), Elizabeth Smith Houston (b. 1884), James K. Hall Houston (b. 1886), and Alice Kerr Houston (b. 1888). There are references to other Houston's in the collection, including another Levi, for whom William M. Houston was executor to his estate. However, there is no genealogy available, currently, to track the Houston relationships.

William M. Houston died tragically in a train accident near Statesville, NC, in 1891. The store, which was the manufacturing headquarters for Tar Heel Liniment, was then managed by a Mr. S. A. Kerr and Mrs. Houston into the early years of the twentieth century.

SCOPE & CONTENT NOTE

As a source on turn of the century business in Greensboro, this collection is extremely broad in scope. Forming the bulk of the collection, the Bills & Receipts (Series 3) show a very diverse business community in Greensboro. Researchers will be able to get a good idea of the diversity in Greensboro business during this period.

Other materials in the collection contain evidence of life in turn of the century Greensboro. Items in the Printed Material, Legal, Athletic, and Photography series may be useful for those trying to piece together the social fabric of the city's past. Researchers interested in Greensboro names, business, and families will also find the Account Books of interest. The most useful of these are filed with Account Books and numbered #15, #28, #54.

Along with the paper documents described here there is a Family Bible (filed with Family Bibles, Acc. #1971.94.3), and a photography collection (Photo Coll. 1977.1-153). Many of the photographs depict life in downtown Greensboro before and around the turn of the century.

The Correspondence contains little information on the family, but includes such miscellaneous items as a World War II Franklin Roosevelt postal cover, postmarked 1950.

SERIES DESCRIPTIONS

1. Account Books. 5 folders (5 items). 1837-1902.

The first three account books (1:1-3) contain the accounts and ledgers of clients and customers of Houston & Bros. Grocers, located on S. Elm St. in downtown Greensboro. Many Greensboro businesses and names are found on the pages of these books.

The minute book (1:4) is from a high school literary club, the Davis Literary Society, in which J. K. Hall Houston was a member and officer.

The final account book appears to be an undated stock book, including some discernible Greensboro names.

2. Athletic. 3 folders (9 items). 1902-1904.

These materials pertain to the activities of J. K. Hall Houston, specifically community football and baseball teams: the Church St. Baseball Club, and the Greensboro Football Club No.

2. The team book (2:3) contains rosters, constitutions, and game results for both clubs. It sheds interesting light into the organization of community based youth sports around the turn of the century, while also showing how some members of Greensboro's population spent their leisure time.

3. Bills/Receipts. 85 folders (ca. 400 items). 1867-1909.

The largest series, Bills and Receipts compose almost four fifths of the entire collection. The bulk are from the years immediately surrounding the turn of the century (1898-1902). Some relate to the business, Houston & Bros., while others are clearly personal in nature, pertaining to the family business of Mrs. Bettie Houston, widow of William Montgomery Houston, and her children. Most of the bills bear the name of Mrs. Houston in various forms, while some contain the name of her eldest son, William Shelton Houston.

The wide variety of businesses listed here indicates this series' comprehensive nature. Businesses of all types are represented, from grocers and dry goods merchants, to doctors and pharmacists. This great diversity in Greensboro business suggests that the city was indeed a boomtown at the turn of the century. Most of the businesses were located in what is now the central downtown district within blocks of one another. Many were located on familiar streets such as S. Elm, W. Market, and Davie.

With few exceptions, the bills and receipts pertain to Greensboro businesses, except where noted: e.g., Strawbridge and Clothier (3:73), in Philadelphia, PA; or Elizabeth College (3:14) in Charlotte, NC.

In general, researchers will be able to get a sense of the comprehensive scope of turn of the century Greensboro business from these items.

4. Correspondence. 15 folders (39 items). 1878-1950.

This relatively small collection of letters sheds little light on the Houston family. There are some interesting features to the series, however, such as a 1950 Franklin D. Roosevelt World War II postal cover (4:3) addressed to William S. Houston.

There is a small collection of mostly Christmas cards from radio celebrity Jessica Dragonette (4:6) also addressed to William S. Houston. A card from a company named Dean's (4:5) based in New York City thanks William S. Houston for a delivery they made to Ms. Dragonette.

Also of interest are two telegrams (4:7) announcing the death of William M. Houston in a train accident near Statesville, NC, in 1891. The photograph collection (1977.146 & 147) contains several pictures of the wreckage in which Mr. Houston lost his life.

Other material in the collection consists of a letter from Hall Houston (4:8) to his sister away at Elizabeth College in Charlotte, containing some family news. There are two items (4:11 & 13) which pertain to Athletic contests involving community based local teams.

5. Legal. 4 folders (8 items). 1845-1891.

The documents in this series span several generations of the Houston family. The receipts of inheritance (5:3) document items received by John B. Houston upon the death of his father, Levi Houston.

After the untimely death of William M. Houston in the train accident mentioned above, a Report of Commissioners (5:4) concerning the Houston family and Mrs. Bettie Houston was issued and includes the signatures of three Greensboro Commissioners: Sample Brown, Jesse Wharton, and John Pritchett.

The deeds (5:2) involve several topics relating to the family. One was issued by the City of Greensboro for a cemetery plot in Green Hill Cemetery, which ironically was taken out by William M. Houston just months before his death in 1891. Another deed involves a Harriet Houston, whose name appears nowhere else in the collection. It concerns inheritance from a John Houston. The final two deeds pertain to William M. Houston as the executor of the estate of a Levi Houston. They involve property on S. Elm St. where the Houston & Bros. store was located. Dated in 1888, they largely concern the distribution of inheritance between heirs, including a Charles Emerson and his wife, from Virginia.

The most interesting document in the series is an agreement (5:1) between William M. Houston and Charles Emerson for the manufacturing and sale of Tar Heel Liniment. The formula was provided by Emerson and capital for manufacturing by Houston. Profits were to be split evenly by the two parties; the name of the product became the joint ownership of both men.

6. Literary. 2 folders (3 items). ca. 1896-1901.

This small series, consisting of materials belonging to two of Mrs. Houston's children, provides evidence of Greensboro secondary education around the turn of the century. The composition book (6:1) belonged to Hall Houston and was used by him in the sixth and seventh grades. It contains school work he completed at the time.

The writing books (6:2) were used by Elizabeth Houston. One bears the stamp of Wharton Brothers Booksellers & Stationers, a Greensboro company, which also appears in the Bills/Receipts (3:81).

7. Photographs. 1 folder. (Filed Separately, Photo Coll. #1977.1-153).

Each photograph in this collection has a separate data sheet filed in the Search Room which should be consulted for specific information. This collection contains numerous portraits of Houston family members, particularly the family of William M. Houston, and of several African-American servants in the Houston's employ. There are also several pictures of the front of Houston & Bros. store, located on S. Elm St. in downtown Greensboro.

Of particular note are two pictures of the 1891 train wreck near Statesville, NC, in which William M. Houston lost his life. There are many photographs of street life in Greensboro at or before the turn of the century. Several small pictures mounted on card stock showing parades in downtown Greensboro were taken by (William) Shelton Houston with a Kodak box camera from the second floor of the courthouse.

These and others of people walking the streets are excellent visual references to local clothing styles of the period.

8. Printed Material. 18 folders (43 items). 1872-1945.

This miscellaneous category contains many diverse items. There are several interesting advertisements (8:1) that relate to Greensboro, and appear on the back of Houston & Bros. letterheads. These city boosterish ads were designed to attract businesses to Greensboro.

A family Bible (8:2) lists some vital statistics on the family, and is stored separately from the collection. Some early business cards (8:4) of William M. Houston provide further evidence into the family's business interests. Of particular note is a vol. 1, no. 1 copy of a pamphlet (8:13), the H-T Gazette, that apparently focused on local news.

There are several Greensboro programs/playbills for theater productions performed in town, including: the Academy of Music (8:14), the Grand Opera House (8:15), and one from a private residence located at 317 N. Greene St. (3:16). These give a glimpse of how and where Greensboro residents enjoyed their leisure time. There are also numerous programs/playbills from Broadway shows in New York City.

One of the more interesting groups of items in the collection is a small number of World War II ration coupons, which were owned by various members of the Houston family. These list some biographical information such as height, weight, age, address, and in some cases, occupation.
