

MSS. Collection #41

McDaniel Lewis Papers, ca. 1921-1978. 11 boxes (465 folders), ca. 2500 items.

NOTE: The numbers cited in parentheses, e.g. 1:5, refer the researcher to the Series#:Folder# in which that name or topic will be found.

INTRODUCTION

This collection consists of various letters, articles, printed materials, and photographs compiled and written by McDaniel Lewis. Lewis was an outspoken, conservative and sometimes controversial figure in Greensboro. He was quick to speak out or write letters to the editor on any topic of interest to him.

The bulk of the materials relate to Lewis' civic activities and his involvement in various social and political issues. Researchers interested in Greensboro/Guilford County politics will find information on several issues, including the debate over loyalty oaths during the Eisenhower administration, Quaker pacifism and the Peace Corps, the shooting of Willie Grimes at NC A&T University, and the 1927 recall election of several city councilmen. There are significant materials relating to the creation and development of the Greensboro Historical Museum, including correspondence discussing museum acquisitions and preparations for several anniversaries.

Having an avid interest in history and historic preservation, Lewis was involved in numerous organizations, including the NC Department of Archives and History, the Guilford County American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, and the proposed creation of MacLamroc Park in honor of Guilford County historian, James MacLamroc. Topical correspondence includes several letters from prominent North Carolinian's, such as Gov. Luther Hodges, Jesse Helms, and Senator Sam J. Ervin. For a more complete list of subjects, researchers should consult the index and/or folder listings.

The main weakness of this collection is the lack of materials pertaining to Lewis' personal life and his family. Series #28 contains a scant amount of family correspondence and genealogical information. There is, however, little information about his private life outside of his civic involvement. The collection also contains little information concerning the McDaniel Lewis & Co. investment firm, which he created in 1941.

Arrangement: McDaniel Lewis arranged his papers originally by subject/topic; the original order was maintained in most cases. The collection is arranged alphabetically into 45 series based on subject. Each subject is then sub-divided by either topic and/or document type. The series are: American Legion; Bank Holiday; Cook, Mrs. R.E.; First Baptist Church; Fisher and Latham Park Monuments; Frank, Philip E.; Greensboro and Guilford County Governmental Center; Greensboro Chamber of Commerce; Greensboro City Club; Greensboro Country Club; Greensboro Historical Museum; Greensboro; Greensboro Public Library; Greensboro Schools, Libraries, and Boundaries; Greensboro Sesquicentennial; Greensboro 27; Guilford County American Revolution Bicentennial Commission; Guilford County Bicentennial Commission; Guilford County Director of History, Culture, and Information; Guilford County Genealogical Society; Guilford County Note; Guilford County; Guilford County National Military Park; High Point, NC; Historic Jamestown Society, Inc.; Lewis, McDaniel; Maps; Metropolitan Dinner Club of Greater Greensboro; N.C. American Revolution Bicentennial Commission; Oak Ridge Military Institute; Printed Material; Quakers and Guilford College; Recall Election; Reserve Officers Association; Richardson Hospital; United Arts Council of Greensboro; Van Noppen Referendum; Veterans of Foreign Wars; Veterans Memorialization; War Memorial Coliseum (Commission); War Memorial Stadium; Wilson, Louis Round Centennial; and World War II.

Provenance: This collection was donated by McDaniel Lewis shortly before his death in 1978. Although processed, it was not formally accessioned.

Processing: This collection was organized by Dennis Daniels of the UNCG History Dept. as part of an internship during the summer of 1993. The finding aid was completed by Archives Assistant Christine A. Dumoulin in July 2001.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

McDaniel Lewis was born on February 24, 1894, in Asheville, NC, to Elisha Betts Lewis and Dora McDaniel. In 1898, the family relocated to Kinston, NC, where Lewis spent most of his youth; Lewis was one of six children. After graduating from Kinston High School in 1912, he attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he received his A.B. As a student, he began utilizing his writing abilities as co-editor of The Daily Tar Heel, the student paper. He also worked on the staffs of the University Magazine and the yearbook, Yackety-Yak. Lewis was also a student correspondent for the Greensboro Record.

Upon graduation in 1916, he took a position at Raleigh High School (NC) as an English teacher and track coach. He married Lynwood Adams Cook of Danville, VA, in 1917. Towards the end of World War I, Lewis was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the infantry of the U.S. Army in 1917; he served for two years, and spent 15 years in the U.S. Army Reserve Corps as a captain. After the war, Lewis began working with the Southern Real Estate Company in Greensboro for several years and then became interested in investment banking. He formed the partnership of Lewis & Hall in 1931 and eventually established his own firm, McDaniel Lewis & Co. ten years later.

From his early days in Greensboro, Lewis was an advocate and activist for the preservation of local and state history. In 1924, the Greensboro Historical Museum was founded, Lewis being a charter member. He would serve the museum for decades to come, including collecting artifacts and serving on numerous committees. He also served as a member of the Executive Board of the NC Dept. of Archives and History for 18 years, 12 of them as chairman. He received several awards for his efforts in historic preservation such as the Dolley Madison Award presented by the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce and a distinguished service award from the Dept. of Archives and History. He was instrumental in getting the City of Greensboro to set aside a soldiers and sailors area at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Lewis was also involved in several local Greensboro/Guilford County committees, including the Guilford County Selective Service Board #2, the N.C. Municipal Council as director, Chairman, Greensboro Recognition Day Committee, and the Guilford County executive committee. During the 1970s, he was involved with the Member of the Guilford County

American Revolution Bicentennial Commission. He also was responsible for initiating the 1955 honor banquet for Edwin B. Jeffress, which led to establishing the Chamber of Commerce's distinguished citizen award. Lewis was also a trustee for Chowan College from 1957-1961 and 1963-1967.

Ten years after the death of his first wife, he married Lillian King Kimbrough in 1965. He had two daughters, Margaret Betts and Mary Lewis. He passed away at his home on August 13, 1978.

SCOPE & CONTENT NOTE

The materials in this collection focus primarily on the civic and political activities of Lewis rather than his family life. Much of the material reflects his vast interests in political, social, and historical issues relating to Greensboro. He was a member of numerous organizations and committees during his lifetime.

Several series, such as the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce, the Greensboro Historical Museum, and the Guilford County Bicentennial Commission, contain large amounts of correspondence, especially letters from prominent social and political figures, such as Andrew Joyner (9:5, 9:6, 12:25, 12:29), Ceasar Cone (16:1), Edward R. Murrow (17:6), and Gov. Luther Hodges (12:9). Lewis wrote many letters soliciting support for different causes, such as the building of War Memorial Stadium or expressing his conservative opinions on social issues. Of particular note is Lewis's view on race relations at the end of the Civil Rights Movement and changes in local government. He blasts the Chamber for their handling of the 1969 shooting of Willie Grimes at A&T University and the possible implementation of a ward system of city government. (9:12, 9:20-21)

Lewis's love of history and interest in preservation efforts are well documented. The Greensboro Historical Museum series contains documentation on early collection development (12:2-8), correspondence and printed materials relating to its 35th anniversary (12:22-12:50), and various clippings (12:37). Also of interest are the reports and correspondence of his involvement with making Guilford Courthouse a national military park. The correspondence includes letters from Stewart Udall and the U.S. Dept. of the Interior (25:10) and Sen. Sam J. Ervin. (25:4). Additional documentation for preserving the history of Greensboro/Guilford county can be seen in the correspondence of the Original Acts of Greensboro and Guilford County (8:1), Fisher and Latham Park Monuments (5:1), and the newspaper clippings in the Greensboro Sesquicentennial (17:15-16).

The series on the American Legion (#1), Veterans of Foreign Wars (#40) & Veterans Memorialization (#41), War Memorial Coliseum and Stadium projects (#42 & 43) and World War II (#45) document Lewis's military involvement and his patriotism. He was instrumental in convincing the City of Greensboro to set aside a soldiers and sailors area at Forest Lawn Cemetery (41:1-20).

SERIES DESCRIPTIONS1. American Legion. 22 folders. 1934-1975.

Includes material relating to an Armistice Day celebration in Greensboro, 1941-42, which Lewis helped organize: includes correspondence with Gen. J. Van B. Metts and John T. Kennedy., clippings, and programs.

A second series relates to the state American Legion Convention held in Greensboro in 1934. Composed mainly of letters, there are also clippings and printed material (flyers, programs), and two photographs. Notable correspondents include Gov. John Ehringhaus and Frank Porter Graham. Miscellaneous material relates to Memorial Day Programs (1971-75) and other Legion items.

2. Bank Holiday. 3 folders. 1930s.

This concerns the banking difficulties during the 1930s depression. Included are letters, clippings, and a 1934 booklet on the condition of NC banks

3. Cook, Mrs. R.E. 3 folders. 1921-1937.

Letters, financial and legal documents relating to the purchase of property on Hillside Dr. by Lewis's mother-in-law.

4. First Baptist Church. 17 folders. 1939-1975.

Includes correspondence, photographs, legal documents, printed material, etc. Lewis was an active member of the church and this series reflects various aspects of its history, including material concerning: activities during World War II; various church constructions; and the Baptist Orphanage of N.C. Interesting religious/social subjects include: Bible courses in public schools, "blue laws" and temperance, and material on a Jews for the Messiah group.

5. Fisher and Latham Park Monuments. 1 folder.

Includes biographical information on Basil J. Fisher and his family and the development of the Fisher Park area. There is a photograph of the Genesis Monument, which marks the geographic center of Guilford County.

6. Frank, Philip E. 1 folder. 1968.

This single item is a Confederate Memorial Day address delivered by Frank for the Sons of Confederate Veterans on May 10, 1968.

7. Greensboro and Guilford County Governmental Center. 1 folder. 1973.

Includes brochures, clippings, invitation and a booklet.

8. Greensboro and Guilford County Original Acts. 2 folders. 1957-1961.

Includes letters and printed items. All relate to Lewis's efforts to document the founding of Greensboro. Included are copies of the various acts of establishment and the broadside -- "Original Documents Relating To The Founding of Greensboro" -- created for the sesquicentennial celebration of 1958. Included is correspondence with Thad Eure.

9. Greensboro Chamber of Commerce. 52 folders. 1952-1975.

Letters, newspaper clippings and printed material compose this series focusing on diverse business and political topics of the time. Highlights include information about: E.B. Jeffress (Greensboro newspaper publisher and mayor) and the tribute dinner organized in his honor in 1957, at which he received the first Distinguished Citizen Award. Included is a copy of Lewis's speech, "E. B. Jeffress--His Contributions to Greensboro." Correspondents of note include: Christopher Crittendon and Carl T. Durham, Frank P. Graham, and Luther Hodges.

An interesting folder (#12) contains information on the racial disturbances in Greensboro in May 1969, and Lewis's views on the proposed ward system during the same years (see also folders #20-21). Lewis felt the Chamber had not adequately supported the police and National Guard during the disturbance, and he was much opposed to proposed selection of councilmen by wards, instead of the traditional "at-large" system.

The Wage Stabilization Board Investigation of 1952 concerns labor unions and contains correspondence from N.C. House and Senate members, including: Clyde Hoey, Herbal C. Bonner, and Carl T. Durham.

10. Greensboro City Club. 1 folder. 1972-1974.

Letter, clippings, printed items concerning the City Club, which was organized in 1972.

11. Greensboro Country Club. 7 folders. 1937-1976.

Correspondence, clippings, pamphlets, concerning the club and Lewis's membership.

12. Greensboro Historical Museum. 56 folders. 1924-1978 [bulk 1950s-1970s].

Includes correspondence, photographs, clippings and printed material. Lewis was a charter member, first secretary and President of the Museum Corp. and this material reflects his various roles and interests. There is much on the various anniversary celebrations (30th, 35th, 50th), and also early museum literature of all types.

13. Greensboro Preservation Society. 3 folders. 1968-1975.

Includes letters and printed items concerning the Society.

14. Greensboro. 2 folders. 1933-1970.

Printed material includes: 1931 pamphlet on Greensboro; 1933 "Revised Proposal for Refunding"; a Directory of Clubs and Organizations (1969); and a Euterpe Club yearbook for 1970-71.

15. Greensboro Public Library. 3 folders. 1958.

Letters and clippings concerning the proposed site of the new Public Library building. Included is a letter from Nellie Rowe Jones.

16. Greensboro Schools, Libraries, and Boundaries. 9 folders. 1954-1955.

Includes correspondence and clippings relating to schools and libraries and boundary lines: bonds & finances, school consolidation and overcrowding, public library sites, and urban/county development and boundaries.

17. Greensboro Sesquicentennial. 18 folders. 1957-1958.

Includes correspondence, clippings, photos, flyers/tickets etc. relating to the 150th anniversary of the founding of Greensboro in 1808. Lewis was involved in organizing the event, which is documented in some detail in this series.

18. Greensboro 27. 2 folders. 1975.

Lewis was one of the 27 citizens featured in this 1976 book by Abe D. Jones, Jr. There are letters, clippings and corrected copies of Jones's biographical sketch of Lewis.

19. Guilford County American Revolution Bicentennial Commission. 21 folders. 1971-1976.

Letters, clippings, printed material etc., concerning the Bicentennial Commission, on which Lewis served. Included are legal documents, correspondence concerning the planning and celebrations, reports and minutes of the Commission, documents relating to the Battleground Park (including President Gerald Ford's visit) and the proposed History Trail and MacLamroc State Park. Important correspondents include: Jesse Helms and Gov. Bob Scott.

20. Guilford County Bicentennial Commission. 28 folders. 1962-1972.

Correspondence, minutes, financial records, clippings, books, programs, brochures, photographs, etc. documenting the activities of the Commission in organizing the 200th anniversary celebration of the establishment of Guilford County in 1771. Included is information on a variety of historical organizations and locations in the county and numerous letters with local, regional and national leaders.

21. Guilford County Director of History, Culture & Information. 1 folder. 1972-1974.

Correspondence related to Lewis's idea for a permanent director to head a History and Information section of county government.

22. Guilford County Genealogical Society. 1 folder. 1974, 1976.

Note concerning the organization of the Society in 1974, and a 1976 issue of the Guilford County Genealogist.

23. Guilford County Note. 1 folder. 1933.

"Revenue Anticipation Note" issued by Guilford County, in the amounts of 25 & 50 cents, $1 and $5.

24. Guilford County. (Printed). 1 folder. 1936, 1971, 1973.

25. Guilford County National Military Park. 20 folders. 1941-1969.

Includes correspondence, clippings, printed material and maps. Letters and clippings focus on development of the park (boundaries, land acquisitions, zoning, etc.), and the Veterans Cemetery plans. Correspondents of note include: Carl T. Durham, Sam J. Ervin, B. Everett Jordan, and Stewart L. Udall. There are management and environmental plans in the Dept. of Interior Reports folders (#11-12). Information about the history of various park monuments, numerous brochures and pamphlets on the park, and maps of the site (as well as a proposed MacLamroc State Park) are also included.

26. High Point, N.C. 1 folder. ca. 1970s.

Includes two promotional pamphlets on High Point and an undated, typed historical overview of the city.

27. Historic Jamestown Society, Inc. (N.C.). 1 folder. 1974, 1976.

Printed items, newsletters, and a note, relating to the activities of Historic Jamestown Society, Inc.

28. Lewis, McDaniel. 14 folders. 1954-1971.

Includes correspondence, family history (including copies of 19th century family letters), photographs, reports, speeches and miscellaneous printed items (mostly pamphlets on various N.C. topics), relating to Lewis, his family, and history in general. There are speeches relating to: Christopher Crittendon, McDaniel Lewis, and 1930s financing.

29. Maps. 3 folders. 1935-1971.

Included are maps of Greensboro (1959, 1968, 1971), Guilford County (1938, 1972) and North Carolina (1935, 1963).

30. Metropolitan Dinner Club of Greater Greensboro. 1 folder. 1971.

Includes programs and brochures concerning the club.

31. N.C. American Revolution Bicentennial Commission. 1 folder. 1970s.

Material relating to the Commission includes its "Purposes and Policies," information directed to local committees in N.C., and two brochures.

32. Oak Ridge Military Institute. 1 folder. 1952, 1965.

Includes two printed items: "Early Years of a Century of Service" (a Centennial Commencement program from 1952), and a 1964/65 Bulletin.

33. Printed Material. 2 items. 1930s, 1953.

Includes a "Homecoming" program (first page only), from the A&T vs. Morgan State football game, in excellent condition; and a pamphlet by Charles L. Van Noppen of Greensboro concerning the 1930s banking problems ("What Will The N.C. Legislature Do For The Forgotten Man")?

34. Quakers and Guilford College. 25 folders. ca. 1960.

This series is rich in information relating to the Quakers, both local and national, and Lewis's strong views in opposition to their pacifist positions during the 1960s. There is correspondence, notes, printed material, etc. relating to communism, conscientious objectors, integration, and the Peace Corps. Clippings relate to the American Friends Service Committee, Quakers and communism in Greensboro, and loyalty oaths. Of particular note is a controversial speech given by Lewis on Confederate Memorial Day at Green Hill Cemetery, criticizing the AFSC and Guilford College. The speech caused uproar amongst supporters and its opposition on local and state levels.

Correspondents of note include: Carl Durham, Sam Ervin, Jesse Helms, J. Edgar Hoover, William S. Powell, and Francis E. Walter.

35. Recall Election. 3 folders. 1927.

Letters and clippings document the effort to recall several city officials and Lewis's letter-writing campaign and efforts to prevent their recall.

36. Reserve Officers Association. 1 folder. 1974.

Two items document the Association's activity in Guilford County and N.C.

37. Richardson Hospital. 1 folder. 1969, 1975.

Letters, clippings, and a pamphlet "History of L. Richardson Memorial Hospital," document some of the history of this Greensboro African American hospital. Includes a letter from Lewis to Rep. L. Richardson Preyer.

38. United Arts Council of Greensboro. 1 folder. 1969-1973.

A miscellaneous assortment of material relating to the Arts Council, including a letter to the Greensboro Record, a Carolina Theater brochure proposal for a Performing Arts Center, and a 1969-70 Arts Council directory.

39. Van Noppen Referendum. 4 folders. 1947.

Correspondence, clippings, notes, relating to the Van Noppen property at the northwest corner of Gaston (now Friendly) and Eugene streets. This controversial track of land had been given to the City for its use, possibly as a park or war memorial site (which Lewis pushed for). It was eventually sold to Sears Roebuck.

40. Veterans of Foreign Wars. 1 folder. 1947.

Letters (one from Mayor Fielding Fry) and brochure relating to a proposed new building for the George E. Preddy, Jr. Post No. 2087 Veterans of Foreign Wars chapter.

41. Veterans Memorialization. 20 folders. 1938-1945.

Correspondence, clippings, speeches, plats, relating to Lewis's and the American Legion's efforts in helping to create a "Soldiers & Sailors Memorial" and burial plot at Forest Lawn Cemetery, and for related Memorial Day programs. The memorial was dedicated on May 29, 1938 (see program in 41:18). Correspondents of note include: Josephus Daniels, Thomas Dixon (who delivered the address at the memorial's unveiling), Cordell Hull, and William B. Umstead.

42. War Memorial Coliseum (Commission). 48 folders. 1944-1954.

Correspondence, clippings, maps, plats, photographs, notes, etc. relating to the controversial plans and negotiations during the 1940s and 50s to find a suitable site to construct an auditorium/coliseum as a World War II memorial.

There is extensive correspondence with political and business leaders concerning the various proposals, and documentation of Lewis's outspoken views on the subject. There are minutes of the Fund Commission, 1947-53 (see 42:29-30) on which Lewis served. Correspondents of note include: Edward Benjamin, Cone family, W.H. Holderness, George E. Perrin (Chairman of the War Memorial Commission), and C.M. Vanstory. There is a copy of the 1945 "Site Selection Report" prepared by the F. Ellwood Allen Organization.

43. War Memorial Stadium. 5 folders. 1925-1947.

Includes correspondence, clippings, photographs relating to the early efforts -- of which Lewis was a major player -- to create a memorial to veterans of World War I. The various concepts and politics, which eventually arrived at Memorial Stadium, are documented. See the interesting promotional pamphlet in 43:5. Folder 43:3 is an early photo of the stadium taken by local Greensboro photographer, W.H. Roberts.

44. Wilson, Louis Round Centennial. 1 folder. 1976.

Lewis writes letters of appreciation to Wilson, former Librarian at UNC Chapel Hill.

45. World War II. 56 folders. 1942-1950.

This voluminous series includes correspondence, clippings, programs, tickets, photographs, etc. relating to Lewis's activities in Greensboro during World War II. There is significant material relating to the organizational work and creation of Recognition Day (folders 6-23) that Lewis headed. It was held in 1946 as a "thank you" for returning soldiers.

Among his many local activities, Lewis served on the Selective Service board, and this is documented in some detail (folders 24-57), in both its local and state/national context: draft deferments, registration totals, servicemen assistance, etc. There is the original zinc photographic plate used by the newspaper when it printed the photo of the board members (45:47).

There is correspondence with local, regional and national figures throughout the series, including: Gov. Gregg Cherry, Brig. Gen. Albert L. Cox, Rep. Carl T. Durham, Sen. Clyde Hoey, Julian Price, Mayor C.M. Vanstory.
